

Principal's Message

Welcome to the home of the Superstars! If you want to understand 21st century teaching, then come visit Norwood Elementary. What you will see, hear and experience will make you happy that your child attends a school that emphasizes problem solving, responsibility centered learning and respect.

Students collaborate, think critically and creatively, have genuine conversations, do problem based learning and challenge scenarios, along with enhancing and integrating a strong foundation and enduring understanding of the basics in reading, writing, math, social studies and science.

Technology is a daily tool in classrooms where students share opinions and ideas with all student response systems, research and design products and writings with net books, create videos with flip cams, and teach and explain with flipcharts, software and Web 2.0 applications. Students are authentically engaged in challenging, discovery learning. Art, music and physical education support the academics and vice versa. You will feel the positive energy and excitement for learning in every classroom. This is the school that prepares students for college, their careers and for their futures!

Sincerely,

Mrs. Pat Goldys
